

costs much for transmitting from New York to Washington. Two packages containing $30,000, and which could have been carried by hand, were recently delivered in Washington at a cost of $4,800 for transportation alone. The cost of printing was $1,000, and the cost of the paper was $1,000.

Mr. Clark, Chief of the First Division National Currency Bureau, instituted experiments for producing a distinctive paper, and also for dyeing. Through the efforts of Dr. Stuart Gwynne, of Boston, a method of dyeing paper photographically was discovered. This paper cannot be dissolved in hot or cold water, cannot be dyed, and has an irremovable non-photographic tint in its "spider" fibre, takes ink more readily, retains it longer, and wears better than any paper heretofore manufactured for the purpose of currency in this country. The tint is produced by a new and true pigment which cannot be removed without destroying the fibre of the paper itself. It was the discovery of Dr. Gwynne, whose connection with the Treasury Department is said to have led to his arrest without charges, as well as to previous annoying persecutions. The experiments in dyeing resulted in perfect success, a thing never before achieved by any country. The advantage of this is that the impressions are all alike, while the paper was wet and dried and wet again, printing the face and then the back, the paper would dry irregularly.

Another improvement in the affixing of the signatures of the Treasurer and Register of the Treasury to the bonds and notes mechanically, as it employed 70 clerks, at $1,200 per year for each clerk, to do it by hand. This, also, was a success.

THE SUPREME COURT.—March 10, a case involving the right of the navy to property captured on land, in the United States, was decided against the navy. The court adjourned on the 10th inst., until next December.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.—Mr. McCulloch addressed the principal officers of the Treasury Department, March 9, expressing full confidence in the ability and will of the people to sustain the treasury. He said: "My chief aim will be to provide means to discharge the claims upon the treasury at the earliest day practicable, and to institute measures to bring the business of the country gradually back to a specie basis, a departure from which, although for the time being a necessity, is no less damaging and demoralizing to the country than the failure of the currency." He also announced that he would discharge the claims upon the treasury at the earliest day practicable, and to institute measures to bring the business of the country gradually back to a specie basis, a departure from which, although for the time being a necessity, is no less damaging and demoralizing to the country than the failure of the currency.

The Board in session at Springfield, Mass., for the examination of small arms, etc., have decided to reduce the calibre of small arms from fifty-eight and fifty-four to fifty, which reduces the weight of the ball one-third, thus making an important saving of lead in the ammunition and reducing the weight necessary to be carried by the soldier.

In reference to the enlistment of veterans during the autumn of 1863, Provost Marshal General Frye says: "Over 136,000 soldiers, who would otherwise have been discharged, were secured for three years longer. Organizations which would otherwise have been lost to the service were preserved and recruited, and experienced officers were retained in command. This force has performed an essential part in the great campaign of 1864, and its importance to the country cannot be overestimated."

Congressional. UNITED STATES SENATE.—In extra session, commencing on the 6th inst., it was voted that all premises for the sale of spirituous liquors should be removed from the Senate portion of the Capitol. Intoxicating liquors have been excluded from the House portion of the Capitol since the whole session. HUGH McCLACHAN was confirmed as Secretary of the Treasury. James Harlan as Secretary of the Interior. It was decided to postpone all action on the admission of Senators from Louisiana, Arkansas and Virginia, until next December. Major General of Volunteers, Schofield and O. O. Howard, were confirmed by the Senate. HUGH McCLACHAN was confirmed as Secretary of the Treasury. James Harlan as Secretary of the Interior. John P. Hale has been nominated and confirmed as Minister to Spain. The Senate adjourned, March 11.

Whipped Seceders.—The Richmond papers admit that there is a party of "whipped seceders" in and about that city. The influence of this party may be inferred from the fact that it includes Senators and Representatives, and even the Vice President himself. There being no doubt that there was a plan on foot to force Mr. Davis to resign, and that Mr. Stephens had consented to resign, so that Mr. Hunter, as President of the Senate, would be increased.

The House bill for arming slaves has been amended and passed the House. Senator Hunter, of Virginia, says he don't see anything to fight for now.

Items. The recent encyclical of the 18th December, 1864, is but a repetition of many others which have been published by the Pope, and especially of that issued by Gregory XVI. on the 15th August, 1862. Gregory VII. Boniface VIII. Innocent III., and a great many other Popes, moreover, had said the same things which were repeated ad nauseam by Pius IX. on the 8th December last.

Secretary Seward has revoked the passport system as far as it refers to the travel on the railroads in the United States and Canada. The naval force on the lakes is to be increased.

Deserters from Lee's army say far more desert to their homes than to the Union lines, and that Lee's army thinks Lincoln's terms of peace are good enough.

Last week the steps to the auction block, and the lock and key to the room where female slaves were examined, in the "slave mart" of Charleston, were presented to a Freedman's Aid Society by C. C. Coffin, a "Carleion," of the Boston Journal.

According to the latest accounts, it is estimated that 60,000 persons lost their lives by the recent terrible cyclone in India. The report that 12,000 persons were drowned, was at first received with incredulity, but the number was vastly underdressed.

The district of Georgetown, now occupied by Admiral Dahlgren, is the richest rice growing section of the Union. It was also one of the heaviest slave districts, only 2,394 of its people having been whites in 1860, while 19,253 were slaves. Admiral Dahlgren tells the masters that "freedom will in future enjoy the fruits of their own labor, but as a reasonable provision for their inability to provide for themselves immediately, their former owners will furnish each one of them with sixty days food of the usual description."

He is indubitably pledged to the Union cause in America; he believes it to be the interest of France to back up the Union.

He ought to restore to the church the property confiscated by previous governments. He ought to prohibit the teaching of any dissenting doctrine. He ought to lead the bishops do as they please with their flocks. He ought to open the way to a learned and zealous clergy—not a learned people.
